

Ballard families:

Last Wednesday, we shared elementary and secondary academic resources for families to utilize with their children. This was our district's first step in helping families support learning at home in a way that was suitable to their current structures and routines.

Our next step on this journey is launching this website. Our teachers have been hard at work, putting together more targeted, grade/content-specific resources for families. Our teams will update this weekly with activities and work students and families can be doing if they so wish. As new content is populated each week, we will send a reminder email with a link to the site. We realize connectivity is an issue in some households, and we are developing plans to assure resources are accessible to all families.

Our K-5 resources are ready to go; BMS and BHS pages will be populated by Tuesday, April 7th. For our DMACC and AP courses, the teachers will continue to communicate with their students through Google classroom as opposed to this site.

If you have any questions about this resource, please let me or your child's teacher know. We will link this website to our district's website on the COVID19 page. Our hope is that our families are staying healthy, managing their work and household demands, and as time allows, utilizing this resource in a way that suits their capacity.

Katie Claeys, Director of Teaching and Learning